About the Awards

The annual Planning Institute of Australia (PIA) Awards for Planning Excellence demonstrate leading practice, leadership and achievement in planning and the planning profession. Planning strengthens communities, facilitates economic development and improves the choices available for where and how people live and work. It facilitates decision making and helps to balance private, government and community interests for net future benefit. Through their work planners identify hazards and reduce risks, while identifying and protecting environmental, social, cultural and heritage values.

The planning profession has enormously important and positive contributions to make to the future. PIA supports its members in delivering good planning outcomes and we celebrate that contribution through the Awards program. Participating in the Awards is a small but important way to demonstrate your commitment to advancing the profession.

Our Awards program offers the opportunity to share achievements and celebrate the value planning brings to our communities. It provides the chance for recognition of excellence and to showcase leading practice across a range of planning disciplines and sectors. Leadership in planning, particularly in the face of adversity, is acknowledged and applauded. Our categories celebrate the multidisciplinary nature of planning and the great leadership in this field. They also recognise emerging planning talent and connect with grass roots community planning.

In all, the Awards are a chance to celebrate, recognise and reward outstanding planning and planners.

As a national program, the Awards commence at the state and territory level seeking out the best of planning in each jurisdiction. Following judgement and recognition at a state or territory Awards ceremony, the winner of each relevant category is then elevated to the national stage. These state and territory winners are then judged against each other at a national level, culminating in the National Awards for Planning Excellence ceremony which acknowledges the best of the best of planning and planners in Australia.

The Planning Institute seeks to ensure that all sectors and disciplines engaged in urban and regional planning have an opportunity to receive their due recognition for the planning work they do.

It is our chance to share the success stories and to promote the significant achievements in planning. Promoting planning success stories is a great way to show why Planning Matters – we are shaping the world today for tomorrow.
Convenor’s Message

My Convenor’s message last year opened with a reference to futurist Alvin Toffler’s seminal 1970 book “Future Shock”. Although my commentary related to predictions of disruption through technological change which Toffler had foreseen half a century ago, we barely saw coming the biggest disruption in our lifetimes; COVID19.

This has been a year that has challenged the planning profession to rise to the challenge of enabling rapid adaptation and response. We’ve seen the WA State Government implement major planning reforms. We’ve worked on ways that economic activity can be stimulated, social coherence protected and spatial patterns could be reimagined. It has been clear that the Planning profession is positioned like no other in stepping up and assisting cities, regions and communities to understand and confront future change and adaptation. Our sector constantly meets the challenges of addressing change, disruption and transition with intelligence, excellence, ingenuity and leadership.

It is unsurprising therefore that these qualities are worthy of recognition and acclaim each year.

The PIA Awards for Excellence recognise exemplary work in key projects by individuals and teams of Planning and kindred professionals. It is the opportunity for the profession to acknowledge outstanding achievement in its many facets exemplified in projects, programs or people that clearly accomplished superior outcomes. At their best, the PIA Awards for Excellence help to set new bars and standards for the industry.

The 2020 Awards will be judged by a fresh panel of acknowledged industry experts and leaders, between them covering a wide sweep of specialised knowledge and experience. There can be no greater professional accolade than the acknowledgement of the finest peers.

I urge planners to step forward to celebrate the exemplary work you have achieved, to show leadership in your profession, and to step up to the podium to receive the acknowledgement you deserve.

Payment of nomination fees

Nomination fees are an important part of the financial structure that enables PIA to continue to provide a high-quality Awards program.

Entry Fees are $230 + GST per nomination

The fee is payable for nominations for all categories except:

- Planner of the Year
- Outstanding Tertiary Student Project
- Young Planner of the Year
- Great Place Award
- Planning Champion Award
- Healthy Active by Design

For the 2020 Awards, PIA has determined that nomination fees will be waived for projects where government agencies or non-for-profit organisations are the sole nominee. This decision has been made in recognition of the difficulties these organisations can have either meeting the expense due to budgetary constraints or because of restrictions on expenditure for governance and/or probity reasons. If your organisation meets these criteria and you wish to apply for this waiver, please tick the box on the Nomination Form stating ‘I wish to apply for a waiver of nomination fee’.

Your local PIA office may wish to contact you to confirm your organisation's eligibility for the waiver. Call your local PIA office if you wish to check your eligibility.
Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to be a member of PIA to enter a project in the Awards?

Unless the eligibility criteria for a specific category requires you to be a member, non-PIA members may enter the Awards.

Can I enter the same project in more than one category?

Yes, where appropriate projects may be entered in more than one Award category provided:

- each nomination addresses the specific selection criteria for each category for each project, and
- you pay the relevant entry fee for each category.

How should I present my submission?

The written component of your entry must address the selection criteria and be presented in A4 format. Addressing the selection criteria in a clear and comprehensive manner is essential for the entry to be competitive as the judges use the information to help with assessment. We encourage the close involvement of the project team in preparing the submission as the judges are closely looking at the quality and robustness of the written content rather than the presentation materials.

Whilst some entrants spend money on graphic design for the entry this has no impact on the judging process.

Is the word count and supporting evidence word/page limit strict?

Yes. Any words that are over the word count/page limit will not be viewed by the judging panel.

Will my submission materials be returned?

No. Entries receiving Awards become the property of PIA and will not be returned.
My project is not geographic/location specific and/or involved input from people around Australia. Which State or Territory Awards should I enter?

You are able to choose any State or Territory to enter a project that is not geographic or location specific and/or involved collaboration with people from a number of different locations but you can only submit one entry in one State or Territory. Multiple entries are invalid.

Types of projects that might fall within this scenario include books or academic papers.

Can I submit an International Project?

International projects can only be accepted on the condition they have been undertaken by an Australian project team/or individual based in Australia.

You are able to choose any State or Territory to enter an international project but you can only submit one entry in one State or Territory. Multiple entries are invalid.

International projects completed by project teams/or individuals who do not reside in Australia are ineligible to nominate.

Conditions of Entry

- All nomination materials must be submitted electronically. No hard copy submissions will be accepted.
- The Judges do not need to confer an Award in all categories.
- Only one Award Winner will be granted in each general category and then elevated to the PIA National Awards
- The Judging Panel may select more than one entry across eligible categories to receive Commendation Awards.
- The Judging panel has the right to consider an award nomination in an alternate or additional category.
- Contact with members of the judging panel to discuss an award nomination is strictly prohibited.
- Any material provided as part of the nomination may be used by the Planning Institute of Australia for promotional purposes.
• By submitting a nomination you agree that PIA is entitled to use information and images contained in the nomination to promote the awards and that the information and images provided have the appropriate internal copyright clearances.

• Nominees who have been misleading in their submissions or whose activities are not compliant with current relevant legislation may be withdrawn from the judging process or have Awards revoked.

• All nominations must be received by the published deadline. Nominations received after this date will not be considered.

• By submitting your application for the Awards you agree that you have read, understood and accept these conditions.

STATE ONLY CATEGORIES - offered only at State/Territory level, with the winners NOT being elevated to the National Awards for Planning Excellence

In addition to satisfying the specific criteria required for each category, the judging panel seeks nominations that demonstrate:

- Principles that could be applied nationally;
- Community benefit, particularly a positive impact in as wide a cross-section of the community as possible;
- Originality or uniqueness;
- Resourcefulness, innovation and creativity;
- A high level of professionalism;
- A high level of technical competence / accuracy;
- A high level of relevant / appropriate research;
- Detailed methodology;
- Good quality documentation and attractive presentation;
- User friendliness, i.e. is it able to be easily read and understood;
- A realistic implementation program - possibly including a budget, and staging details;
- Sustainability and the achievement of improved environmental quality; and
- ‘Leading Practice’.

OBJECTIVE
This Award recognises a Young Planner who has made an outstanding contribution or achievement.

Award seeks out and acclaims a planner early in his/her career who represents balanced qualities in advocating for emerging planning professionals as well as high-quality planning outcomes in the workplace. The individual shows strong promise and emerging capabilities in leadership, planning practice, innovation, enterprise and/or thinking.

ELIGIBILITY
- A planner who has no more than 5 years post graduate experience
- Nominees must be a current Associate or Full Member of the Planning Institute of Australia and have been a member for a minimum of 6 months at the time of nominating.
- Nominees do not need to be a member of a PIA Young Planners Network Committee.
- Nominees should be nominated by an employer, colleague or peer, but may also nominate themselves.
- The Award judging panel for the year may identify suitable nominees.
- Previous winners are ineligible to apply

SELECTION CRITERIA
Evaluation will be based on:
- Demonstrated planning skills and excellence in the professional workplace, i.e. innovation, strategic thinking, high quality of work, excellent emerging communication skills and a high capacity for problem solving;
- An activity or project that furthers the practice of planning or improves planning processes and makes a valuable contribution to team work;
- The individual’s commitment to continuing professional development and involvement with professional institutes, networks, events, outreach work or relevant voluntary activity; and
- The extent to which the individual serves as an advocate and role model for other emerging professionals in the industry or in the workplace, and demonstrates emerging leadership qualities.

NOTE
No nomination fee is required for this category
Cutting Edge Research and Teaching

OBJECTIVE

This Award recognises an outstanding achievement in planning scholarship, research or teaching.

It is awarded for a substantial piece of research or a planning education program which makes an outstanding contribution to the understanding of issues relating to planning in Australia. The Award seeks to recognise work that extends planning debate with an evidence basis.

This category also includes excellence in teaching at both school and university levels.

ELIGIBILITY

- An individual, organisation or agency engaged in teaching or research
- School and University teachers/academics
- Community organisations
- Or a combination of all or any of the above.

WEIGHTING
Improving Planning Processes and Practices

OBJECTIVE

This Award recognises the achievements of planners, planning authorities and development entities in translating planning policy into improved processes and practices in the workplace and ‘on the ground’.

Put simply, this category seeks to award an initiative that takes planning policy and strategy into practice and in doing so achieves a great planning outcome. It is awarded for organisational arrangements or planning initiatives that have achieved improved planning performance and advanced the public interest.

This Award seeks to recognise the value adding that occurs throughout a planning framework or improvements in practice that lead to enhanced development outcomes. The award-winning projects will be ones that contribute to a positive planning culture.

Whilst the genesis of the outcome may be a report, document, scheme or strategy, it is the implementation, action and delivery on the ground which this Award seeks to recognise.

The Award recognises excellence in planning practice and recognises creativity and innovation in the methods involved. This category emphasises results and demonstrates how innovative and state-of-the-art planning practices help to create communities of lasting value.

ELIGIBILITY

- Planning professionals;
- Planning authorities and local, state and federal government agencies;
- Development companies and individuals and financiers; or
- A combination of all or any of the above.

- Discuss how the nomination addressed a need or problem in a visionary or innovative manner.
- Discuss how the project has lead or will lead to measurable improvements in efficiency.
- Illustrate how the project or process has been implemented and discuss the documentation process to help others achieve the intended outcomes.
- Demonstrate ‘on-ground’ outcomes (where possible).
- Demonstrate collaboration in development of the process or project.
- Demonstrate the effectiveness this project can have over time.
Planning Champion Award

OBJECTIVE

This Award recognises non-planners (person, group or business organisation) for their advocacy or for making a significant contribution and lasting presence to the urban and regional environment, over the last 1-2 years.

It is awarded to a non-planner/s who is promoting good planning, and the value of planning or the planning profession to the public. (i.e. through the promotion or reporting of planning issues that raise the positive profile of planning).

ELIGIBILITY

- Nominees do not need to be a member of PIA
- An individual, organisation or agency can nominate;
- Nominees can (but don't have to) work within the political, community or business sphere;
- An individual, organisation or agency may nominate a third party individual or group who has promoted planning in a positive way;
- Nominations should include one or more written testimonials from a client, community group or third party involved in the project or process, and/or a peer review or statement;
- Nominees may self-nominate or be nominated by an employer/client/colleague or a PIA member.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Nominations should address the following criteria (where relevant):

- Demonstrate how they have advocated or enabled a good planning outcome to be achieved.
- Demonstrate how they have increased awareness in the community about the value of planners and planning.
- How their influence has had a positive impact on the community or project?
- Demonstrate how the outcome has been realistic and can be replicated
- What contributions they’ve made to planning practice and/or learning for the planning profession.
- Describe how they have built support for planning and increased understanding of planning issues and values. Describe why this effort was undertaken and the desired outcomes.

NOTE

There is no nomination fee for this category
Public Engagement and Community Planning

OBJECTIVE
This Award recognises initiatives in best practice public engagement or community planning that achieve an outstanding and innovative contribution to enhance built form, planning processes and social outcomes.

It is awarded for work by a planner, planning organisation, government organisation, consultants or a member of the community for a policy, scheme, project, process or event that demonstrates how a thorough understanding of the needs and aspirations of a community is integral to sound planning and social outcomes.

This Award aims to illustrate how a neighbourhood, community group, key stakeholder or other local non-governmental entity influenced or utilised the planning process to address a specific need or issue within the community.

ELIGIBILITY
- An individual, organisation or agency engaged in planning practice;
- Development companies, individuals and financiers;
- Community organisations;
- Or a combination of all or any of the above.

An individual, organisation or agency may nominate a third party individual who has promoted planning in a positive way.

Nominees may self-nominate or be nominated by an employer / client / colleague or a PIA member.

NOTE
Positive consultation that facilitates good planning outcomes will be preferred over that which seeks to impede.
Selection Criteria

Evaluation will be based on:

- Explain how sound principles and processes were used to gather knowledge about the community (for example, public engagement, social and health impact assessments, social research etc). 25%
- Demonstrate how your approach aligned with broader strategic frameworks at a local, regional, state or national level. 5%
- Demonstrate how the community's needs and aspirations were reflected in the project. 15%
- Demonstrate how your public engagement or community planning process enhanced social outcomes (for example, built community capacity, improved social connections, enhanced knowledge of planning, created inclusive public spaces, improved community infrastructure, built form etc). 20%
- Effectiveness and results. State how your entry addressed the need or problem in a visionary or innovative manner that prompted its initiation. Be explicit about how the results have made a difference in the lives of the people affected. Convey the level of effectiveness your entry can have over time. 15%
- Education and capacity building-
  Demonstrate how your entry has encouraged community leaders and stakeholders to revise their opinions about the varied uses and broad applications of the planning process. State the influence your entry has had on public awareness beyond those immediately affected. Demonstrate the connection between the effort's success and increased awareness in the community of planners and planning 20%

From Plan to Place

OBJECTIVE

This Award recognises the implementation of a plan into a successful place.

It is awarded for an effort that demonstrates a significant achievement for an area, either a single community or a geographic region, in accomplishing positive changes as a result of planning. It should demonstrate the implementation from plan to place that makes an outstanding contribution to advancing planning practice.

This Award recognises achievement on the ground. It sees a plan come to life and result in a quality planning outcome. The outcome needs to have been operational for at least one year from completion.

Nominations should address the relevance of the project to one or more planning interest such as urban and regional planning, social planning, environmental planning, transport planning, urban design, economic development planning and planning law.

ELIGIBILITY

- An individual or organisation engaged in planning practice;
- May be self-nominated, nominated by an employer/client or by a PIA member;
- Projects in rural, peri-urban and regional areas, in addition to urban areas, are encouraged

SELECTION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on:

WEIGHTING

The project must have been operational/ on the ground for at least 12 months from its completion.

- Contribution to planning – illustrate the extent to which the project contributes to planning practice in addressing planning issues and opportunities. Discuss how the project has responded to the relevant social, environmental or physical opportunities and/or problems.
  25%
- Transformation of the plan to place – discuss how the intended outcome/s advances the original plan/ policy
  25%
objective. Discuss the evidence or research that shows the place is important to the community or its users, or that the project has broadened or strengthened the identity for this place.

- Implementation and Application – excellence in implementation and application of established techniques, and/or significant innovation in planning.
- Engagement of Stakeholders – discuss how the project team has engaged with the people and organisations likely to be affected (directly or indirectly) by implementation or outcomes of the project.
- Sustainability – how successfully the work incorporates sustainability principles to the objectives in the planning.
The Hard Won Victory

OBJECTIVE

This Award is for a planning initiative, effort or leadership that has resulted in positive planning outcomes in the face of difficult or trying circumstances.

This award is intended to recognise projects that have applied innovative solutions and application of planning tools/techniques to planning challenges, which have resulted in outcomes that have had significant community benefits beyond what may have been otherwise realised.

ELIGIBILITY

- A member of the public;
- An individual or organisation engaged in planning practice;
- May be self-nominated, nominated by an employer/client or by a PIA member;
- Projects in rural, peri-urban and regional areas, in addition to urban areas, are encouraged to nominate;
- Projects that provide a broader benefit across regions or jurisdictions are also encouraged.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on:

- Challenges or barriers - what obstacles, whether physical, natural, social, or a combination thereof, was faced and addressed by the nominated effort? What is the extent of these challenges and what steps were undertaken to meet the difficult circumstances? 35%
- Available resources - what resources were available and how were these resources (financial, personnel, consultants etc.) managed, leveraged and deployed? 35%
- Progress and positive effects - what are the lasting outcomes the effort has had or is likely to have on planning in the community and importantly building resilience within the community? Has the effort removed or mitigated the barriers and obstacles? How has or will the effort shape the future in the community or locale? What influence has the nominated effort had on community leaders 30% and their views about the value and effectiveness of planning?

NOTE

This Award category is not intended to recognise planning initiatives, efforts and outcomes that are deemed to have ‘circumvented’ the process. Rather, the nominee should have worked with the various partners in a complex or constrained setting to achieve mutually beneficial and positive outcomes.
The Great Place Award

OBJECTIVE

This Award recognises a great place, street or neighbourhood in Western Australia, be it a single building, precinct, street or neighbourhood.

This Award is about planning projects that create a true sense of place, involve the community, draw on local culture, history and wildlife, and offer a vision for tomorrow.

A Great place is one that attracts people, inspires people and motivates people. It has a great atmosphere. It's a place that people are proud of and bring their international visitors to. It sparks an individual sense of pride and contributes to the overall community wellbeing. It brings people together whether to eat, drink, sleep, play or work.

A Great Place might be a single building, a precinct, a neighbourhood.

PLACE

A public space may be a gathering spot or part of a neighbourhood, downtown, special district, waterfront or other area within the public realm that helps promote social interaction and a sense of community. Possible examples may include such spaces as plazas, town squares, parks, marketplaces, public commons and malls, public greens, piers, special areas within convention centres or grounds, sites within public buildings, lobbies, concourses, or public spaces within private buildings.

Characteristics of a great place can include:

- Promotes human contact and social activities;
- Is safe, welcoming, and accommodating for all users;
- Has design and architectural features that are visually interesting;
- Promotes community involvement;
- Reflects the local culture or history;
- Relates well to bordering uses;
- Is well maintained;
- Has a unique or special character.

STREET

A street comprises the entire three-dimensional visual corridor, including the public realm and how it relates to the adjacent land uses. Submissions should document the street’s character across this realm. Streets of different types are eligible, ranging from pedestrian realms through arterial roadways, but each should have a definable beginning and end. Special emphasis is placed on streets that are complete, that is, streets that service and take into account all users — not just motor vehicles.

Characteristics of a great street can include:

- Provides orientation to its users, and connects well to the larger pattern of ways;
- Balances the competing needs of the street — driving, transit, walking, cycling, servicing, parking, drop-offs, etc;
- Fits the topography and capitalises on natural features;
- Is lined with a variety of interesting activities and uses that create a varied streetscape;
- Has urban design or architectural features that are exemplary in design;
- Relates well to its bordering uses — allows for continuous activity, doesn't displace pedestrians to provide access to bordering uses;
- Encourages human contact and social activities;
- Employs hardscape and/or landscape to great effect;
- Promotes safety of pedestrians and vehicles and promotes use over the 24-hour day;
- Promotes sustainability through minimising runoff, reusing water, ensuring groundwater quality, minimizing heat islands, and responding to climatic demands;
- Is well maintained, and capable of being maintained without excessive costs;
- Has a memorable character.

NEIGHBOURHOOD

A neighbourhood can be based on a specific plan or the result of a more organic process. Neighbourhoods of different kinds are eligible — downtown, urban, suburban, exurban, town, small village — but should have a definable sense of boundary.

Characteristics of a great neighbourhood can include:

- Has a variety of functional attributes that contribute to a resident's day-to-day living (i.e. residential, commercial, or mixed-uses);
• Accommodates multi-modal transportation (i.e. pedestrians, cyclists, and drivers);
• Has design and architectural features that are visually interesting;
• Encourages human contact and social activities;
• Promotes community involvement and maintains a secure environment;
• Promotes sustainability and responds to climatic demands;
• Has a memorable character.

ELIGIBILITY

• A member of the public;
• An individual or organisation engaged in planning practice;
• May be self-nominated, nominated by an employer/client or by a PIA member;
• Projects in rural, peri-urban and regional areas, in addition to urban areas, are encouraged to nominate.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on:

WEIGHTING

• Quality of Design – Describe the place and its surroundings, the planning and design process and the outcome.
  15%
• Discuss any research or evidence that demonstrates the place is important to the community or its users, or that the project has broadened or strengthened the identity of the place.
  20%
• What research and/or design process was used that gave voice to the community or people that use the place?
  15%
• Discuss how well the place meets the identified (or other) characteristics of a great place, street or neighbourhood identified under the objectives noted above.
  35%
• What research was useful in creating the project/place, would be pertinent in evaluating it, or would help make future plans of a similar nature even more effective?

This Award recognises a planner who provides leadership and has made a significant contribution to advancing the profession in the last 1-2 years.

It is awarded to an individual who has demonstrated clear and focused leadership, made a noteworthy contribution to raising the profile of planning, achieved a significant planning outcome and where a planner has lead by example. The winner’s contribution will be inspirational; a planner’s view of the future.

ELIGIBILITY

• Division level entrants may be self-nominated, nominated by their employer or a member of PIA.
• The award judging panel for the year may identify suitable nominees.
• A nominee must be a current Full Member of PIA and have been a member for a minimum of 6 months at the time of nominating.
• Board members, Division Presidents, Division Vice Presidents, and PIA Staff (who are also planners) are not entitled to nominate, or be nominated for the Planner of the Year Award whilst holding their positions of office or staff.
• Previous winners are ineligible to apply

SELECTION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on:

Essential Criteria:

• Inspirational work that demonstrates outstanding leadership in, and commitment to, planning in an organisation, industry, public, academic or private sector or project; and
• A demonstrated commitment to quality, professional integrity and social responsibility; and
• Individual efforts that raise or enhance the profile and value of planning in (for example) the political, social/community, education or environmental spheres.

Desirable Criteria:

• An activity or project that furthers the practice of planning or improves planning processes; and/or achieves a significant advancement in best practice planning outcomes; and/or
• Demonstration of the outcome of an advocacy initiative at a wider level; and or
• The work undertaken by the individual goes above and beyond the normal day to day role.

NOTE

• No nomination fee is required for this category
• Evaluation will be based on the level of achievement. The achievement must be directly attributable to the nominee and be able to be singled out or distinguished from the work of other people.

Healthy Active by Design (HAbD) Award

OBJECTIVE: This Award recognises projects that support and promote healthy and active living, with the intent to increase the community’s physical activity and healthy outcomes in the built environment.

The Heart Foundation, as the sponsor of the award, advocates for environments that promote and support physical activity and heart-health. In collaboration with a number of stakeholders, including the Planning Institute of Australia (PIA) the Heart Foundation supports the creation of healthy built environments to get more Australians healthy and active. The built environment in which we live, work and play has a critical role in shaping our health.

Healthy Active by Design (HAbD) is a web based resource www.healthyactivebydesign.com.au that provides the best available evidence, practical advice, checklists, videos and case studies to assist with the design of healthy, active neighbourhoods and communities.

The HAbD resource focuses on how the built environment supports physical activity (to reduce obesity and the risk of heart disease), social interaction (to reduce risk of mental illness, particularly depression), and the availability of healthy food (to reduce obesity and risk of heart disease).

The resource is structured around 8 key Design Features that can assist planners, urban designers, related professionals and those in decision making roles to facilitate a built environment that enables people to lead healthy and active lifestyles in their community. These design features are not discrete but highly interrelated and include health impacts, evidence summaries, case studies, checklist, policies and best practice examples. The objectives of each design feature are set out below:

DESTINATIONS - planning neighbourhoods with a diverse range of destinations and facilities provides a variety of focal points and creates opportunities for active living across the day and night.

HOUSING DIVERSITY - providing dwelling choices through varying products and occupancy types to meet the needs of a diverse community.
MOVEMENT - an accessible, connected movement network integrating walking, cycling and public transport routes facilitates safe and convenient travel within neighbourhoods, and encourages use of destinations.

COMMUNITY FACILITIES - co-locating community facilities helps to maximise the efficiency of travel networks, enhance service provision and promote passive surveillance.

PUBLIC OPEN SPACE - provide a range of public open spaces that contribute to the recreational, physical and social needs of all members of the community.

SENSE OF PLACE - meeting the needs of the community, preserving places of interest, using local building materials, highlighting local stories and history, and responding to the local climate, can all contribute to developing and enhancing a sense of place.

BUILDINGS - buildings designed to promote increased physical activity stimulate incidental movements, enhancing social and emotional well-being, facilitating natural surveillance and improving environmental conditions.

HEALTHY FOOD - neighbourhoods that encourage healthy food choices, through the planning and design of food retail facilities and community amenities, promote availability and accessibility to healthy food, making for healthier communities.

This Award seeks to recognise best practice in a project or policy/research initiative which demonstrates how these HAbD design features have been applied in its successful delivery. As such, applicants should frame their application in regard to the Heart Foundations Healthy Active by Design tool choosing three or more relevant HAbD design features as the primary focus.

Healthy built environments are about putting the needs of people and communities at the heart of the urban planning process and encouraging decision-making based on human health and well-being.
AWARD CATEGORIES – STATE ONLY

ELIGIBILITY

- A member of the public;
- An individual or organisation engaged in planning practice;
- May be self-nominated, nominated by an employer/client or by a PIA member;
- Projects and/or initiatives in rural, peri-urban and regional areas, in addition to urban areas, are encouraged to nominate.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Evaluation will be based on:

- Demonstrates how three or more HAbD design features have been applied in the successful “best practice” delivery of the project or policy/research initiative.
- Discuss how the HAbD web based tool assisted/aligned with the successful delivery of the project or policy/research initiative.
- Highlight community and/or stakeholder engagement in the planning and delivery process
- Outline what learnings could be conveyed to others who may wish to implement a similar project or policy/research initiative to meet Healthy built form outcomes
- Discuss and highlight research or evidence that demonstrates how the place/initiative addresses HAbD principles.
