Joint Communique | 24 July 2017, held at University of Technology Sydney

Following the Forum held at University of Technology Sydney on 24 July 2017, attended by the government, development industry, community housing and non-governmental sectors, and research, housing and urban development experts, a Communique was issued outlining the measures needed to address the shortfall in affordable housing:

Change of approach necessary
- As of 2017, 373,000 households in NSW cannot get into housing at market rates or are under rental stress. More than 5,000 per year of social and affordable housing is required in Sydney and only 10,000 is planned for the next 20 years. Trend turn around is required.
- Recognise affordable housing as essential infrastructure for a sustainable, inclusive and productive city.
- Affordable housing targets of 5-15% in new large developments and precincts and higher targets for state owned lands (up to 20%) is needed.

Sydenham to Bankstown Urban Renewal Corridor
- Recognise Sydenham-Bankstown Corridor as a priority target for affordable housing in the Central and South Districts and should be subject to a Growth Infrastructure Compact agreement.

Planning mechanisms that optimise the delivery of affordable housing
- Enable more councils to embed inclusionary zoning schemes within local planning frameworks, particularly in growth areas or areas undergoing renewal.
- Enable councils to include a mandatory requirement for affordable housing in their LEPs where there is land value uplift to support its application, including in government land.
- Establish a single statutory planning policy framework (Model Code) for the application of inclusionary zoning measures, density bonuses and compensatory measures for affordable housing, including consolidating relevant SEPP70 and ARHSEPP provisions.

Role for the Community Housing Providers sector
- Ensure that housing created through affordable housing targets are dedicated as affordable rental housing in perpetuity, and managed by a registered Community Housing Provider.
- Use state land to create affordable housing as part of mixed tenure developments, developed and managed in partnerships with Registered Community Housing Providers.

Value capture
- Adopt a consensus position around capturing an even share of value uplift through a consistent policy that is clear and transparent for the development community.
- Feasibility testing for value capture should be completed upfront at the strategic study stage to determine an appropriate value capture rate.

Bond aggregator
- Bond aggregator is supported to enable access to lower cost finance at scale.

The Missing Middle
New approach needed to promote small, intergenerational and manor-house style dwellings as affordable housing rental options in the inner suburbs of Sydney.
